

Alison Aughtman has studied all types of dance for twelve years. These types include ballet, jazz, tap, field, pom, pointe, and hip hop. She was captain of the Ocean Springs High School varsity and competition dance team, as well as a member of the middle school dance team for five years. She has choreographed for the dance team and also for local talent shows and pageants. She was a member of the competitive scene for five years. She has studied hip hop more in depth while attending the University of South Alabama and is now working on studying the art of jazz, tap, and lyrical. She has been teaching dance for the past 4 years. She is currently a Dance/Elementary Education Major at USA, and is a Sr. Company member, teaches and choreographs and assists classes at Dance Revolution.